AMUSEMENTS.

THE CRAWFORD THEATER.

Manager Rich says the Glass-Gagnon Stock company played to one of the largest houses in the history of the Crawford theater last night. More than 200 people were turned away, unable to get even general admission tickets, he says. "The Man on the Box" is without a doubt one of the best high class comedies ever seen in this city, and the way it was staged and acted last night left nothing to be desired. It was one of the best stock productions ever seen in this city, declares manager Rich and every member of the excellent company made many new friends. While Mr. Bert Gagnon and Miss Edith Pollock took another grip on the Crawford patrons and clinched their claim as being the best stock people ever seen in El Paso. This same bill will continue through the week with Wednesday, Saturday and Sunday matinees.

THE MAJESTIC THEATER.

Manager Rich says it looks like a big night at the Majestic tonight with the return of the popular and original Majestic company, with all the old favorites retained, including Fritz Fields, Westworth and Burns, Leonard Lohr, Genevieve LeLacour, Mildred Manning and Evelyn Constance and the Majestic beauty chorus. "Tonight the great comedy success, 'When Jack Frost Comes.' Two shows nightly. Prices 19 and 25 cents.

PICTURES OF JUAREZ TRACK.

Manager Winch announces that moving pictures which possess a local interest will be shown at the Wigan theater tonight. They were taken at the Juarez track during last winter's meet and show the start, scenes during the race and the finish of one of the races. The pictures are used in connection with others taken in Santa Barbara and Chicago to illustrate "The Out's Remembrance," a racing drama. The story, says manager, Winch, is an interesting one and is doubly so locally because of the track views.

LAS CRUCES AND MESILLA VALLEY

MESILLA SCHOOL'S CORNERSTONE LAID

Knights of Columbus In Charge of Ceremonies at Mesilla Park.

Las Cruces, N. M., Oct. 17.—More than 1000 persons witnessed the impressive ceremonies at Mesilla on Sunday when the cornerstone for the new schoolhouse was laid.

The ceremonies were under the auspices of the Knights of Columbus lodge. This organization attended high mass at the Mesilla church in a body, after which a parade was formed, led by 100 school children, dressed in white and carrying banners and United States flags. The parade proceeded directly to the schoolhouse grounds, where Rev. Father M. Grange, pastor of the Catholic church at Mesilla, made the dedication address at 11 o'clock.

Maj. W. H. H. Llewellyn delivered an address in English, being followed by grand knight F. A. McClernon and will Lapoint, while professor Fabian Garcia, of the Agricultural college, and Judge A. J. Fountain spoke in Spanish. After the ceremonies there was a barbecue. People were present from Dona Ana, Las Cruces, Torruetas, Mesilla Park and other places in the country.

The foundations of the school are finished, being of concrete, and work on the brick part will start at once. Bonds to the amount of $10,000 were voted for this building.

This makes four new school buildings in Dona Ana county, the other three being at Organ, Las Cruces and at Mesilla Park. The town of Dona Ana is to have the next one, architects now being at work on the plans. It is expected that this last one will be completed by the time school opens next fall.

STRANGER ARRESTED ON A CHARGE OF BURGLARY.

Las Cruces, N. M., Oct. 17.—George Perry, a stranger to this locality, was put in the county jail here on a charge of burglarizing the J. A. Reames store at Mesilla Park. After the store had been closed for the night a couple of college students noticed a man hanging around and seemingly tampering with the lock of the store door. He ran away when they accosted him and they went over to the house where Mr. Eldson, a clerk in the store, lives, woke him up and told him what they had seen. Eldson took his pistol and went to the store, staying in the sandow for about half an hour, at the end of which time he heard footsteps inside the store. He went to the rear and found where a window had been broken and called the man inside to come out. The intruder came to the window, saw only one person on the outside and retreated into the store. Eldson then told him to come out or he would shoot, and the intruder told him to shoot, which he did.
